

For Immediate Release

May 22, 2008

Standard Imaging Raises Money to Fight Cancer

Standard Imaging, Inc. is pleased to announce that it recently raised more than $9,000 for the American Cancer Society, as part of its 7th Annual Golf Classic fundraiser, held on May 16, 2007, at The Meadows of Six Mile Creek golf course. For the 6th consecutive year, Standard Imaging bested its prior year's fundraising effort.

The 138 participants, drawn from Standard Imaging employees, other local firms and the University of Wisconsin, enjoyed great weather and friendly competition during the 18-hole scramble event. Money was raised through entrance fees, sponsorships, donations, in addition to a raffle and silent auction held following the day's play.

The money will be combined with other Standard Imaging fundraising efforts as part of the American Cancer Society's, Relay for Life campaign. Once its fundraising efforts are concluded in mid-June, Standard Imaging will then match the money raised and present it to the American Cancer Society, resulting in an anticipated total donation of more than $20,000. The organization will use the money in its ongoing fight against cancer.

Standard Imaging is a leading manufacturer of radiation calibration and quality assurance instruments for healthcare. The company was founded in 1990, and has continually grown to become a leader in the medical physics field. As a company with many products aimed at supporting radiation therapy for cancer treatment, Standard Imaging is committed to the fight against cancer. For more information visit www.standardimaging.com or contact Standard Imaging at 608-831-0025.